

CDP – Form for new responding organizations

This form is for organizations wanting to disclose to CDP that have not received an official request for disclosure. A full list of companies requested to respond is available on our website. Please complete information for all fields below and send to respond@cdp.net. Invitations to new disclosers will be sent from early April, at which time you will receive an email with registration instructions. All organizations wanting to disclose to CDP must be legal entities and not sole traders or unincorporated partnerships.

There is an administrative fee for companies responding to one or more of our investor requests on climate change, water or forests. There are three levels of fee, payable once annually regardless of how many programs (climate change, water and forests) a company responds to. The fee applies to companies listed, incorporated or headquartered in Algeria, Argentina, Australia, Austria, Bahamas, Bahrain, Belarus, Belgium, Bermuda, Brazil, Canada, Cayman Islands, Channel Islands, Chile, Colombia, Denmark, Egypt, Finland, France, Gabon, Germany, Hong Kong, Iceland, India, Indonesia, Iran (Islamic Republic of), Ireland, Italy, Israel, Japan, Kazakhstan, Kenya, Luxembourg, Malaysia, Mexico, Mongolia, Netherlands, New Zealand, Nigeria, Norway, Oman, Pakistan, Peru, Philippines, Portugal, Qatar, Russian Federation, Saudi Arabia, Singapore, South Africa, South Korea, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Taiwan, Thailand, Turkey, UK, United Arab Emirates, USA.

We will introduce the administrative fee in additional countries in the future as reporting becomes standard business practice in them.

All self-selected companies (i.e. those that have not been requested to respond to an investor request, but have been invited or have chosen to do so independently, irrespective of any supply chain requests) from the countries listed above are required to pay the administrative fee.

CDP is a not-for-profit organization and to deliver our services at the necessary global scale we now require a small contribution towards our costs from both companies and investors participating in our system.

For information on how we use personal data, please see CDP's privacy policy.
