How to start your CDP disclosure journey?

Q & A

CDP INTRODUCTION

Ms. Elizabeth Lo

Senior Corporate Engagement Officer, Southeast Asia

CDP – the global corporate environmental disclosure platform

CDP is a global environmental impact non-profit working to secure a thriving economy that works for people and planet.

CDP runs the global disclosure system that enables companies, cities, states and regions to measure and manage their environmental impacts.

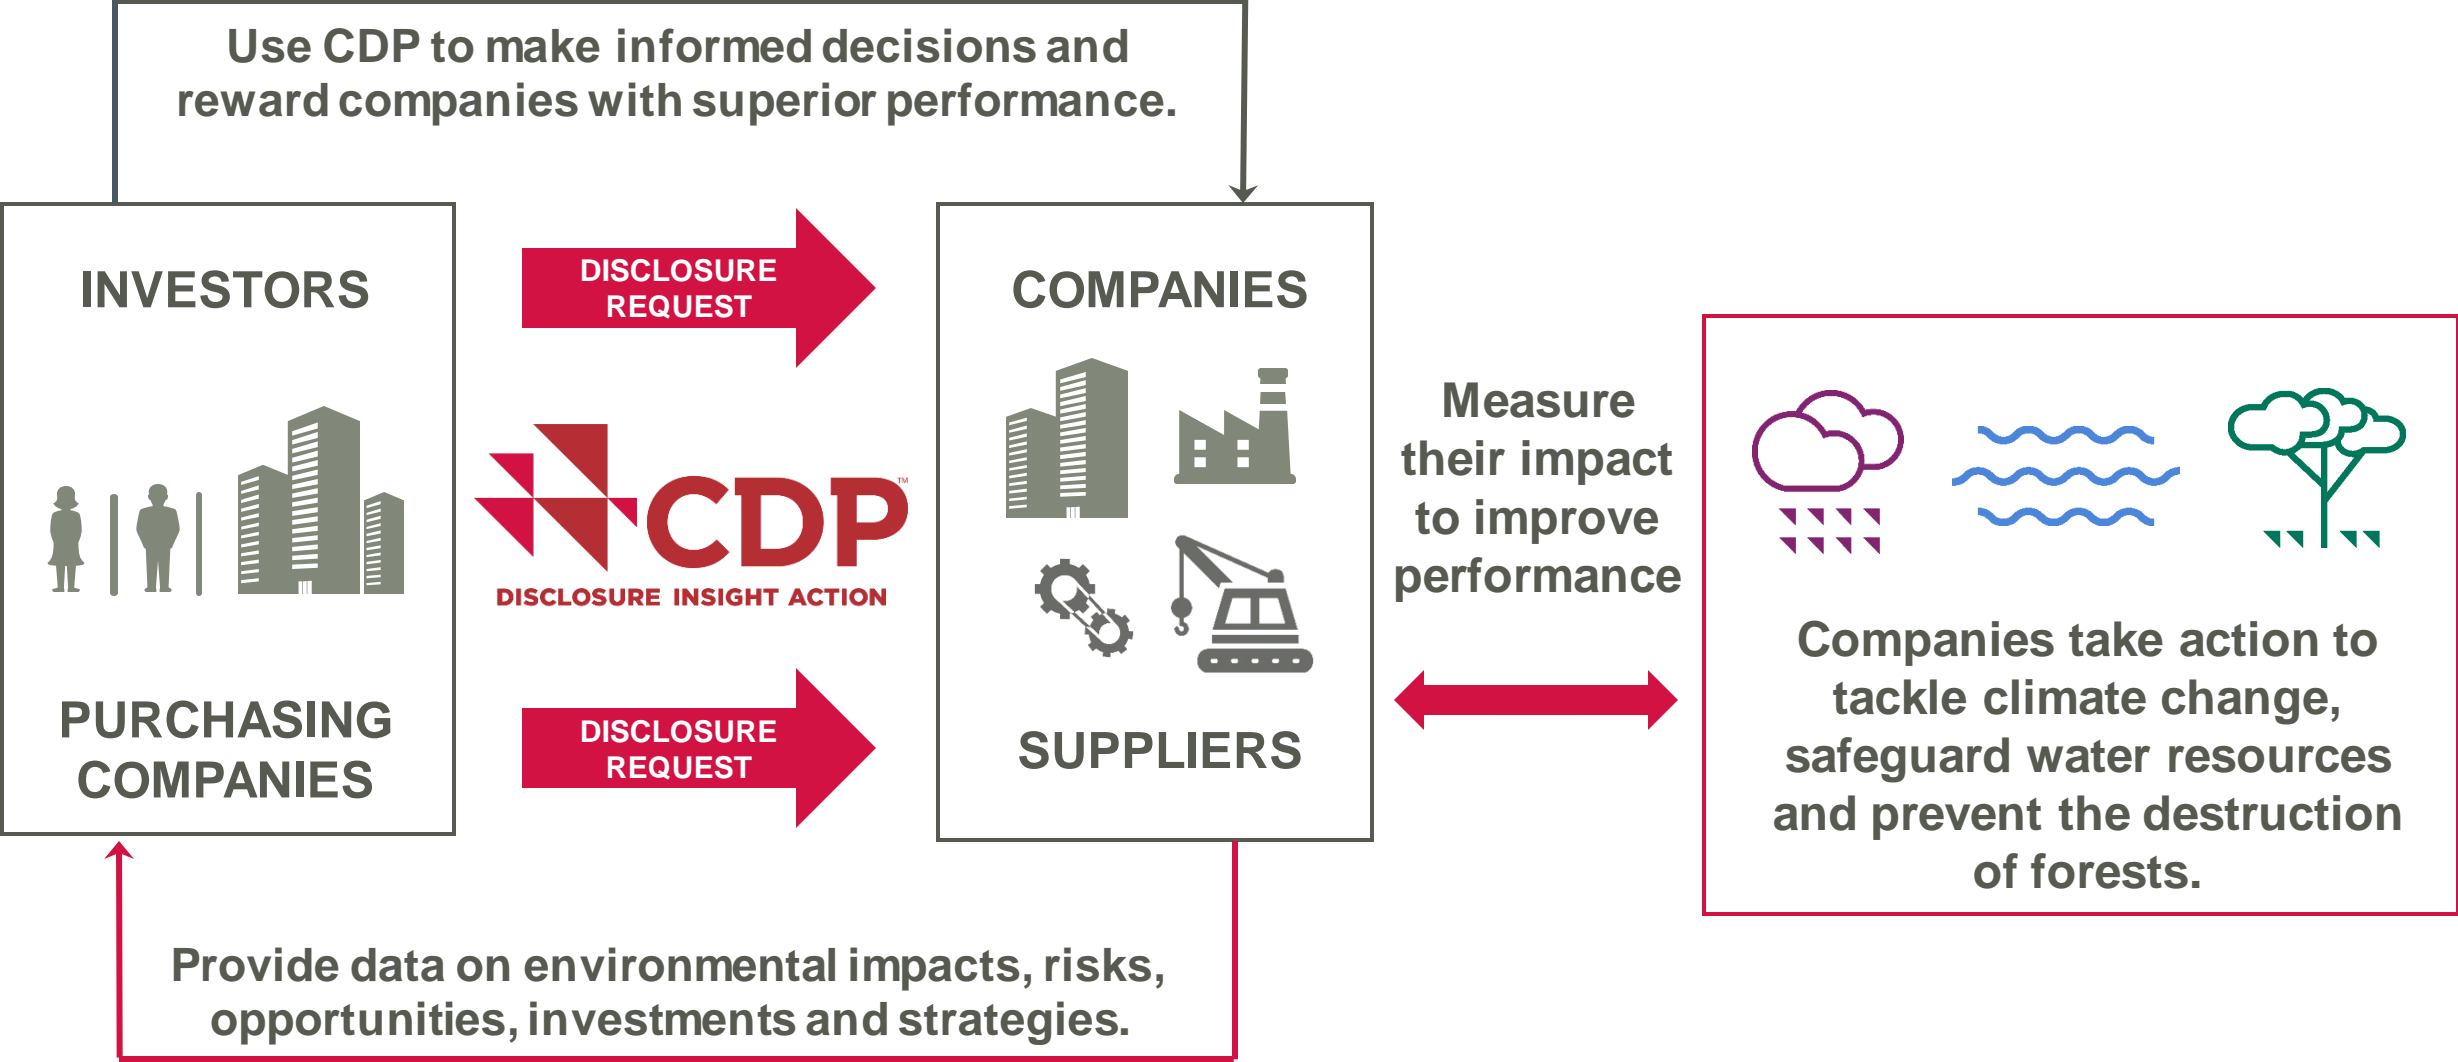

With the world's most comprehensive collection of self reported data, the world's economy looks to CDP as the gold standard of environmental reporting.

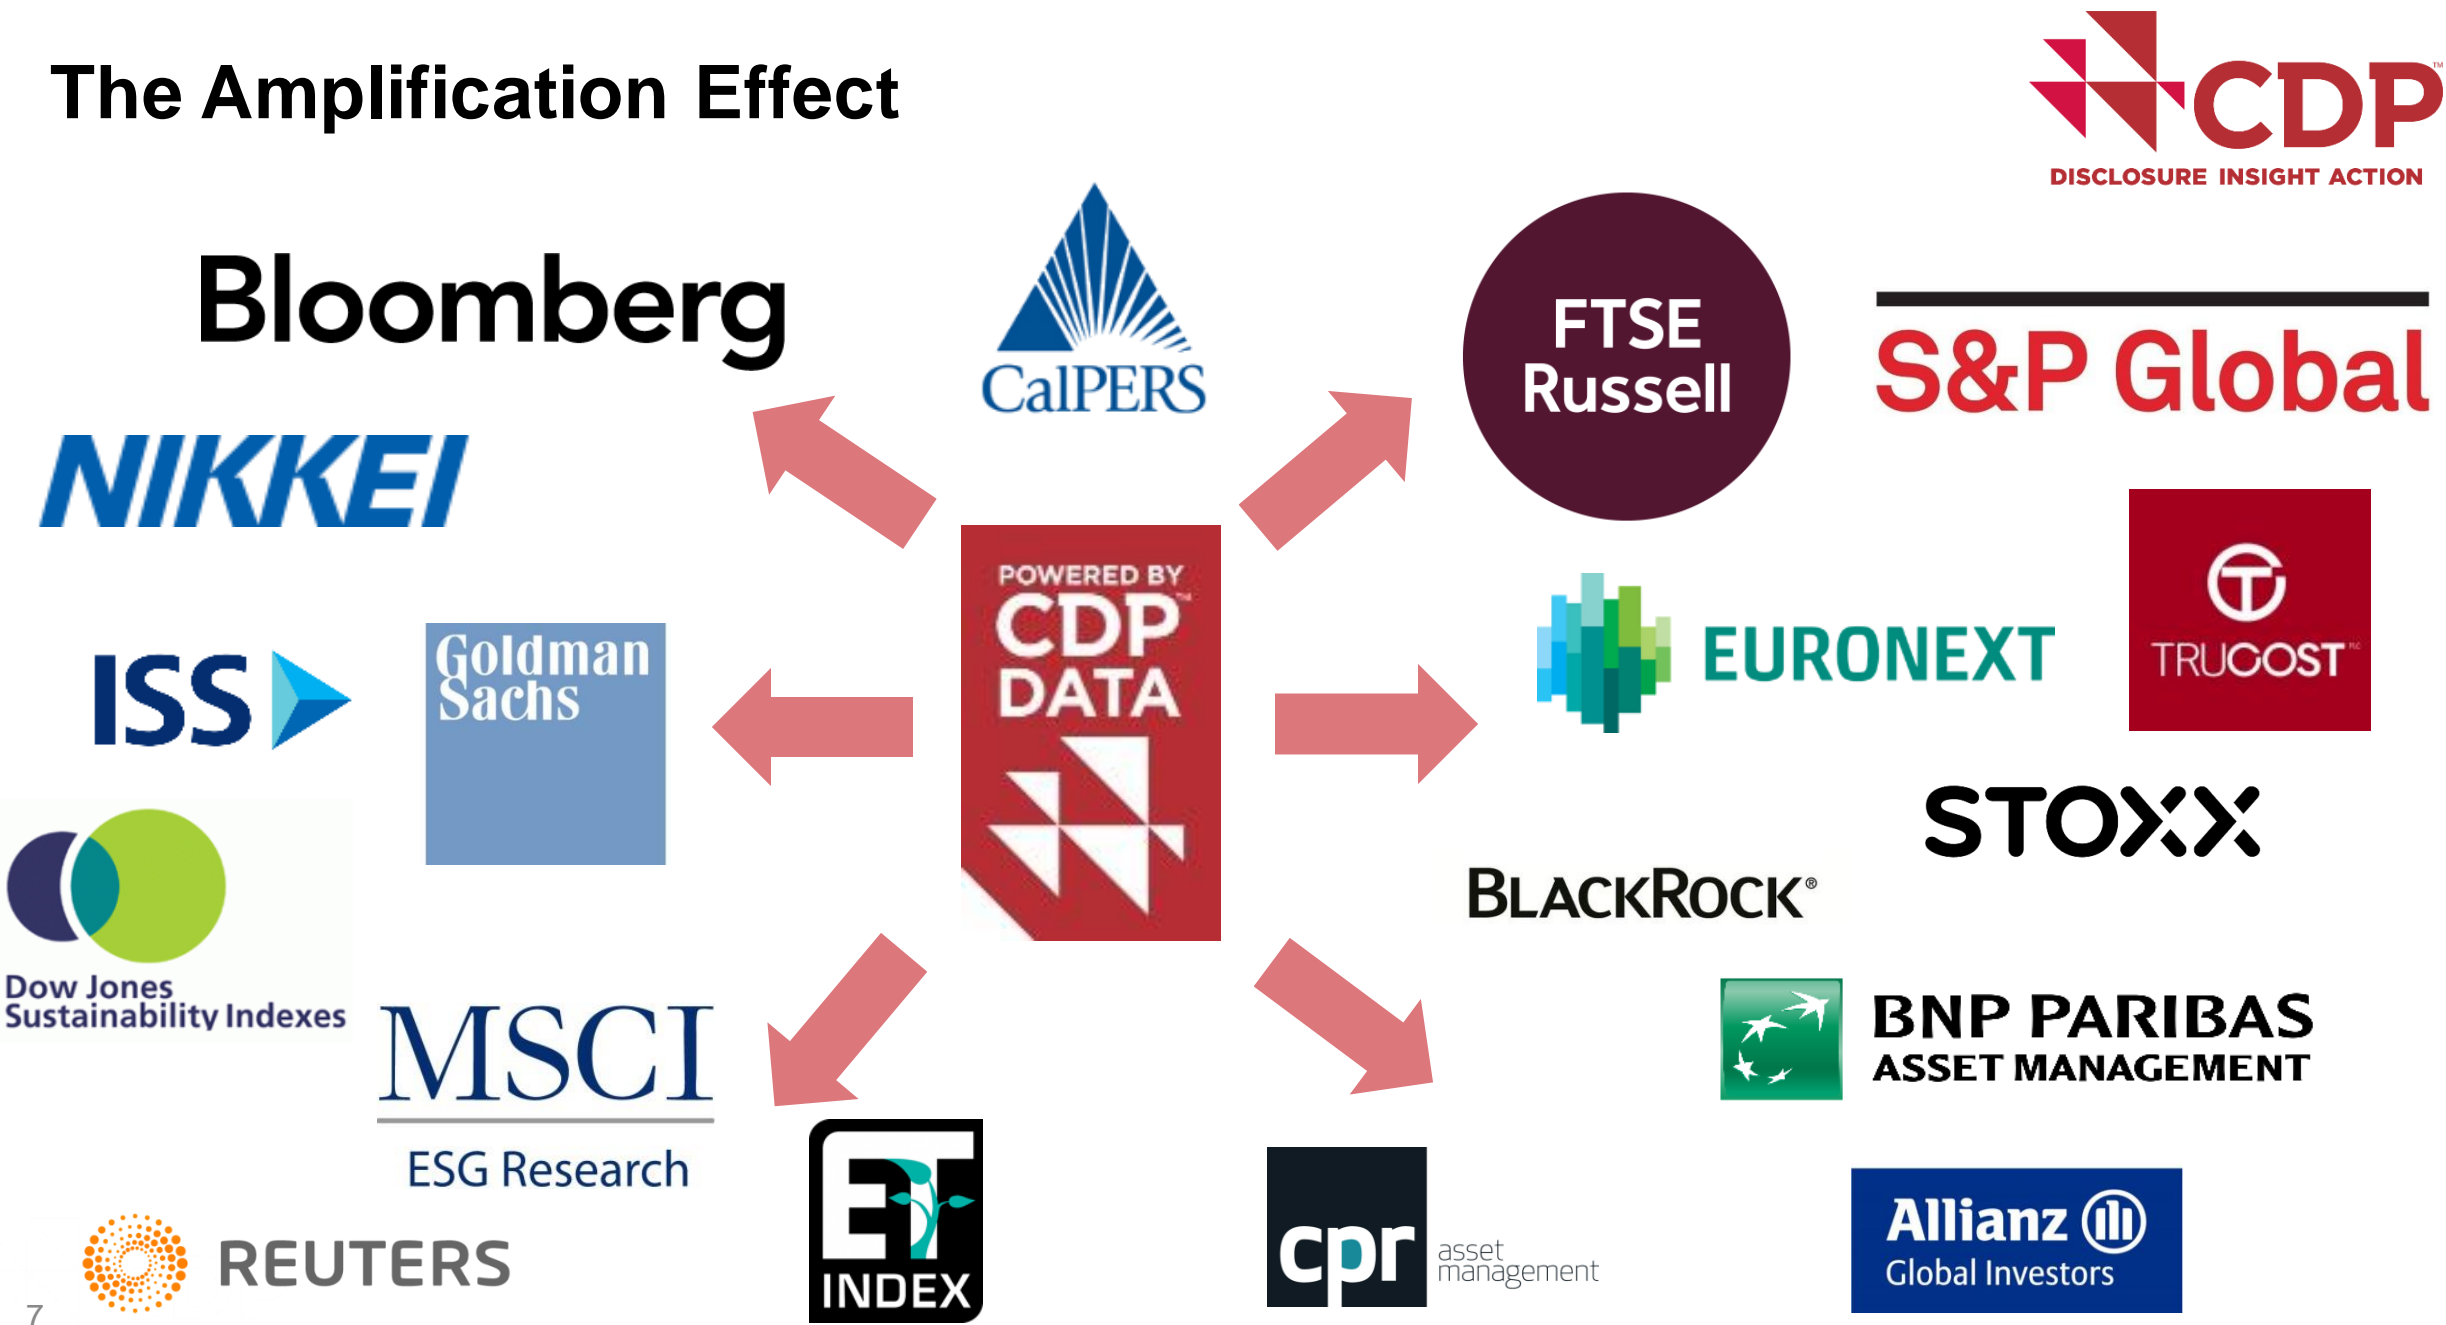

Its network of investors, purchasers and policymakers around the globe, use our data and insights to make better-informed decisions.

How We Work

The Amplification Effect

NATURE-INCORPORATED

Mr. Matthias Ong

Head of Corporate Engagement, Southeast Asia and Oceania

A Landmark Deal
in December 2022
at COP15: The Kunming-Montreal
Global Biodiversity
Framework

“The truth is:
the natural world is changing. And we are totally dependent on that world. It provides our food, water and air. It is the most precious thing we have and we need to defend it.”

Sir David Attenborough

Key Trends to Watch Out For in 2023

Trend 1: Nature is Coming.

- Bloomberg released an article that “Biodiversity beats climate change as talking point” – at least in the US.
- Taskforce for Nature-related Financial Disclosures (TNFD) recommendations are expected in Sep 2023
- Science-Based Targets for Nature (SBTN) v1 for ecosystems protection and restoration (land targets) released in Feb 2023. v2 with increasing coverage of sectors and methods expected by end 2024.

Trend 2: Consolidation and standardization is still necessary.

- The release of the ISSB disclosure framework in June 2023 and CDP will be fully aligned by 2024.
- The world is finally moving towards more standardized disclosure frameworks. CDP will continue to be the disclosure focal point for TCFD/ISSB disclosures.

Trend 3: Everyone is going to look harder.

- Science Based Targets Initiative (SBTi) continues to generate high interest because of the ‘real’, ‘relatable’ targets that holds up well against scrutiny.
- Expansion into nature is necessary.

Southeast Asia and Oceania

Not just culturally diverse, extremely biodiverse

Our region houses spectacular biodiversity hotspots and natural ecosystems. At the same time, it is one of the most vulnerable regions to the impacts of climate change.

- In Southeast Asia, we are owners of one-third of the world's mangroves¹ and nearly 15% of the world's tropical forests².
- In Australia, the Great Barrier Reef is the world's largest coral reef system, stretching over 2,300km composed of 2,900 individual reefs.
- New Zealand has an estimated 80,000 species of native animals, plants and fungi.

Ambition to halt deforestation and conversion of natural ecosystems is still insufficient

Water security extends beyond withdrawals and consumption

Pollution and WASH are concealed threats to water security in our region

“Whilst many companies and the investors behind them are starting to get their head around climate-related risks, they don’t yet appreciate the nature-related risks that many of the industries and companies that they’re investing in are exposed to.”

Co-Chair of the Taskforce on Nature-related Financial Disclosures (TNFD)

REPORTING TIPS & RESOURCES

Reporting Tips - Do Not Leave Cells Blank

- ▼ Certain points are awarded just by completing a question – regardless of content
- ▼ Missing certain information may also prevent you from moving on to a new section
- ▼ Blanks can also give you errors in the ORS where a question is auto-calculated

Blank responses

Leaving a response blank is interpreted as non-disclosure. For numeric fields, values of zero (0) imply a measurement has been made, and the value is zero (0). For numeric fields where no measurement has been made, please leave the field blank and provide an explanation in an open text field for that same question (e.g. 'Comment' or 'Please explain'). If there is no open text field for the question, you may provide an explanation in the 'Further information' field in the online response system (ORS) at the end of your disclosure. Leaving a response blank and entering a value of zero (0) have different scoring implications. Please see the scoring methodology for more details.

Reporting Tips – Provide Company-specific Explanations

Company-specific explanations: explanations which reference activities, programs, products, services, methodologies or operating locations which are unique to that company's business or operations

Poor response – 0 points	Average response – 0 points	Good response – 1 point
An increased demand for sustainable products may lead to reputational benefits for our company.	It is likely that we will gain reputational benefits from offering products that come from sustainably managed forests, e.g. our food products that only contain certified palm oil. We have actively engaged in various information programs with consumers to communicate our commitment to sustainability in our products.	We have actively engaged in a variety of information programs with consumers to ensure that our brand is perceived as sustainable. Examples of this engagement include direct campaigns (in 2023 60% of our products already had certification labels on the packaging), and our association with sustainability programs. For example, the “Choose Green” programme commits us to increasing our share of thirdparty certified products by 15% over three years.

Reporting Tips – Consider the STAR Approach

- ▼ When formulating case studies, responders may find it helpful to consider a ‘Situation-Task-Action-Result’ (STAR) approach:
 - 1) Situation: what was the context or background?
 - 2) Task: what needed to be done or what was the problem to be solved?
 - 3) Action: what was the course of action taken?
 - 4) Result: what was the final outcome of the course of action?
- ▼ The STAR approach is not a scoring requirement but acts as a guideline to aid companies in formulating responses.
