[QUOTE FROM COMPANY SPOKESPERSON RE: WHY THEY DISCLOSED IN 2022, HOW DISCLOSURE HELPS THEM TO IDENTIFY AND MANAGE ENVIRONMENTAL RISKS]

Sherry Madera, Chief Executive Officer at CDP, said:

"With over 23,000 businesses disclosing through CDP this year, it is clear that sustainability – and the data that underpins it - is not a 'nice to have', but an essential part of long-term success in the business community that is showing no sign of slowing down – nor should it.

"Disclosure works, and today we should take a short pause to celebrate the dedication to transparency and accountability shown by [COMPANY NAME] reporting through CDP this year. A 1.5-degree future is still possible if the global community works in lockstep to get there.

"By sharing their environmental data with CDP, [COMPANY NAME] is starting/continuing, an environmental journey that will contribute to keeping that future in sight."

About CDP

CDP is a global non-profit that runs the world's environmental disclosure system for companies, cities, states and regions. Founded in 2000 and working with more than 740 financial institutions with over $137 trillion in assets, CDP pioneered using capital markets and corporate procurement to motivate companies to disclose their environmental impacts, and to reduce greenhouse gas emissions, safeguard water resources and protect forests. Over 25,000 organizations around the world disclosed data through CDP in 2023, with more than 23,000 companies – including listed companies worth two thirds global market capitalization - and over 1,100 cities, states and regions. Fully TCFD aligned, CDP holds the largest environmental database in the world, and CDP scores are widely used to drive investment and procurement decisions towards a zero carbon, sustainable and resilient economy. CDP is a founding member of the Science Based Targets initiative, We Mean Business Coalition, The Investor Agenda and the Net Zero Asset Managers initiative.
