Dear Board of Directors/ Senior Stakeholder,

Your organization has been identified by CDP as an organization of importance and you have been requested to disclose environmental data through CDP in 2024. CDP is a global non-profit that runs the world's environmental disclosure system, driving insights to enable financial institutions, companies, cities, states and regions to measure and act on their environmental impacts.

CDP disclosure is supported by global capital market signatories, including more than 700 investors and lenders, representing over US$142 trillion in assets. These financial institutions may use CDP data to assess the environmental performance and net-zero transition of their current portfolios and potential future investments. The list of 2024 capital markets signatories is accessible via our website.

By disclosing to CDP, your organization's data will add to the most comprehensive inventory of self-reported environmental data in the world – helping to drive action through greater transparency. In 2023, nearly 10,000 stock-listed companies responded through CDP, including 86% of S&P 500, 95% of FTSEurofirst 300, 97% of Nikkei, and 46% of FTSE APAC ex-Japan.

CDP offers a unified approach to environmental reporting. We are fully aligned with the IFRS S2 climate standard as issued by the International Sustainability Standards Board (ISSB) and the Taskforce on Climate-related Financial Disclosures (TCFD) recommendations.

Your response to the 2024 CDP questionnaire will provide standardized, comparable and material data to inform your lenders and investors on how resilient your business is to climate and environmental factors and improve transparency on the measures you are putting in place to reduce your environmental impact.

For next steps on this request, please refer to the email.

Yours sincerely,

Sherry Madera
CDP Chief Executive Officer
